L!VE

T | W

2016

This season Lacoste L!VE renews itself with essential elements from its DNA – to climb the highest heights and to dive the oceans abysses. The soft lines from undulating seawaters stretch themselves across sailor shirts, whilst mountaintops knit themselves into the mesh of winter jumpers, as an outline and atlas of your most daring adventures. Like two infinite constants, the lines formed by these two horizons will guide you until the end of winter.

Firstly, before the cold spreads its frost across the agitated waters, Lacoste L!VE reinterprets its nautical heritage and plays with its most eternal axiom : the sailor line. The iconic print, so dear to the L!VE wardrobe, follows the waves' contortions : twisted, entwined, enlarged or hidden in the lining of a coat – they whirl around the boater's silhouettes. Sailors' knots blend into wool knits, making sure you will never lose your bearings and be able to bring back your dreams to the ports. Near the coast, while the autumn winds crushes on boats sails, yellow hooded macs protect those gone to challenge the dissipated flows.

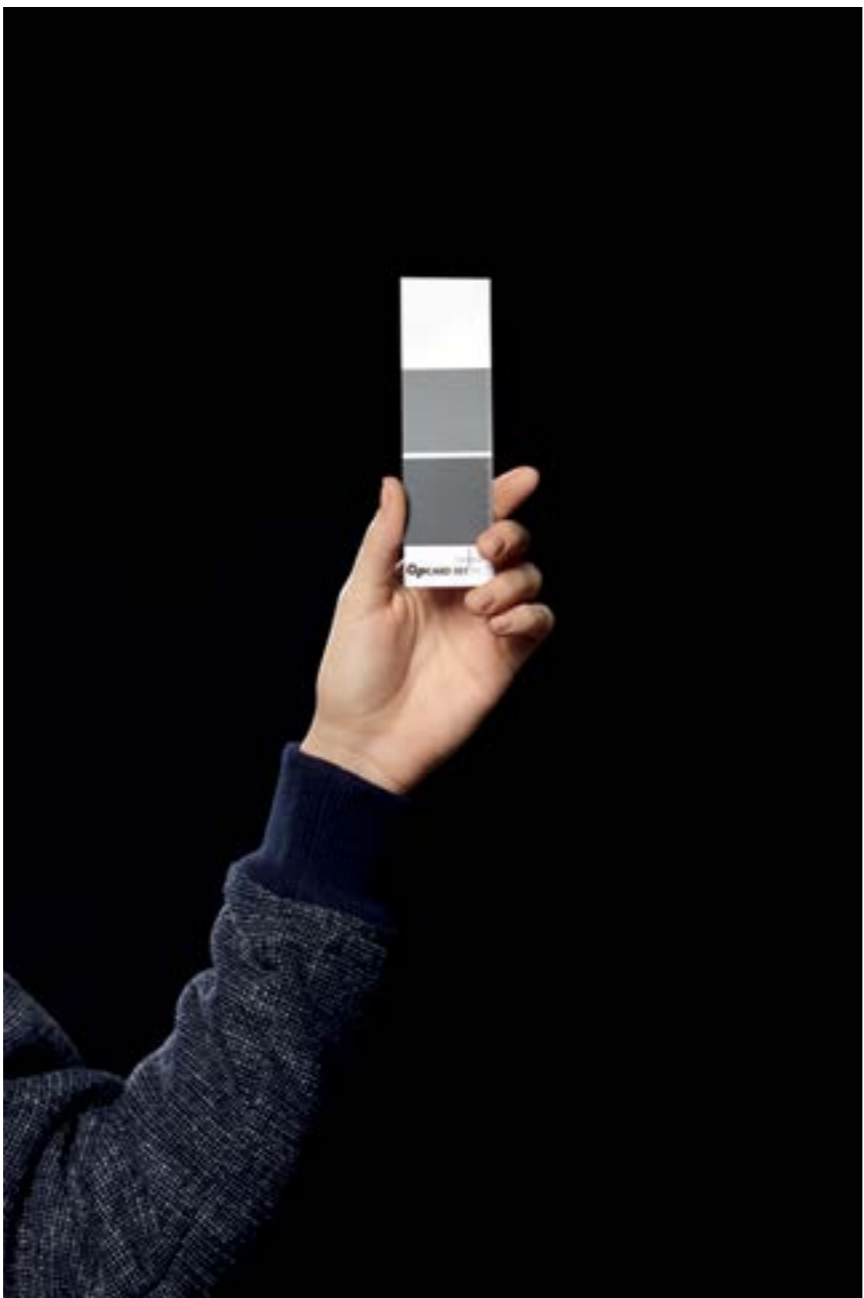

Once back on the shores, temperatures drop down into negatives and Lacoste L!VE settles up on the summits while a cold wind blows on the collection. At the bottom of the slopes, girls' red cheeks reflect in boys' glasses. All wrapped up in technical puffer jackets, the crew get ready to brave the frozen winds. Above their heads emerge the serene and eternal peaks of the mountains – these same peaks that are repeated infinitely as camouflage patterns onto parkas or polo shirts. As always, the sports and urban spirit of our favorite crocodile come to light in the technical material, a zip or an elegant cut.

In equilibrium
between two
lands, the oceans
spread like a
vast sail.
One only needs
to cross it to reach its mystery.

The ocean casts
a spell every time one dares
to venture it.
It holds him in its
infinite wonder,
forever.

Science was always an excuse to climb the mountains tops. People don't climb for science. They climb because they love it.

Somewhere between the bottom of the mountain and
its top is the answer to the mystery of
why we climb.
